Pursuant to Rule 7.2(c) of this Panel's Rules of Procedure, Respondents¹ hereby support the Amended Motion to Transfer filed by Jonathan Groce and Susan Horowitz on January 21, 2009. Respondents agree that the Online DVD Rental Antitrust Litigation should be centralized in the Northern District of California before the Honorable Phyllis J. Hamilton or, if necessary, before another judge of that court.

PRELIMINARY STATEMENT

These dozens of cases unquestionably should be consolidated. They all are actions by Netflix subscribers who allege the same conspiracy and scheme to allocate markets and monopolize, as first articulated by the initial Resnick complaint filed in the Northern District of California. All allege that two San Francisco Bay Area companies, Netflix, Inc. and Walmart.com USA LLC, along with Wal-Mart Stores, Inc., conspired to eliminate competition in the market for online rentals of DVDs in violation of federal antitrust law. They all seek the same monetary and injunctive relief on behalf of themselves and a nationwide class of consumers. This is the sort of case that this Panel routinely has consolidated.

Once consolidated, every relevant factor points to the Northern District of California as the transferee forum. The first case, Resnick, et al. v. Walmart.com USA LLC, et al. (N.D. Cal. No. 09-0002-PJH, filed January 2, 2009) (Hamilton, J.), was brought in the Northern District of California by six plaintiffs, from San Francisco and elsewhere, on behalf of a nationwide class. Netflix, which instigated the conspiracy, is located in that district, as is Walmart.com. The substantial majority of witnesses are located there. The Northern District of California is well-equipped to handle a case such as this. Resnick was assigned to the Honorable Phyllis J. Hamilton, to whom this Panel has sent a prior antitrust class action, In Re Dynamic Random Access Memory (DRAM) Antitrust Litig., 228 F. Supp. 2d 1379, 1381 (J.P.M.L. 2002), which has been conducted in a just and efficient manner. The direct purchaser portion of that case has been completely resolved and the remaining portion of the case is well on its way to a final disposition.

The vast majority of plaintiffs in the subsequent actions also filed in San Francisco. Judge Hamilton has related all but two of the actions filed in the Northern District thus far and has transferred them to her docket, currently thirty-two actions in all. Judge Hamilton has already scheduled a case management conference for April 9, 2009, and the parties have been ordered to meet and confer at least one week prior to that.² Coordination of these actions, therefore, is already underway in her court. Other plaintiffs have filed in several disparate jurisdictions, none of which has remotely the number of cases or the same connection to this action as does the Northern District of California.³

² See Order Setting Case Management Conference, Case No. C 09-0002, Dkt. No. 70 (Feb. 2, 2009) (setting Rule 16(b) conference for April 9th in San Francisco in Resnick and the 20 cases that were then related to Resnick by Judge Hamilton) (attached hereto as Exhibit C).

³ See Exhibit B, Schedule of Related Actions, at lines 35-49. Other than in the Northern District of California, related actions are pending in the following jurisdictions: Western District of Washington (1 case), District of Minnesota (1 case), District of New Hampshire (1 case), Eastern and Middle Districts of Louisiana (1 case each), District of Vermont (1 case), Northern District of Alabama (2 cases), Southern District of West Virginia (1 case), Northern and Southern Districts of Illinois (1 case each), Southern District of Indiana (1 case), Eastern District of New York (1 case), Middle District of Florida (1 case), and the Northern District of Ohio (1 case). The Plaintiffs in the Indiana, New Hampshire, Vermont, and Washington actions support centralization in the Northern District of California.

ARGUMENT

I. RESPONDENTS AGREE THAT CONSOLIDATION OF THE ONLINE DVD RENTAL ANTITRUST LITIGATION IS APPROPRIATE

These related actions readily satisfy the criteria under Section 1407(a) for consolidation in a single forum. Such consolidation “will eliminate duplicative discovery; prevent inconsistent pretrial rulings, including with respect to class certification; and conserve the resources of the parties, their counsel and the judiciary.” In re Set-Top Cable TV Box Antitrust Litig., MDL No. 1995, 2008 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 100789, at *2 (J.P.M.L. Dec. 12, 2008). Like so many prior antitrust class actions this Panel has centralized, the Online DVD Rental Antitrust actions “present overlapping and, in many instances, nearly identical factual allegations that will likely require duplicative discovery and motion practice. Centralizing these actions under Section 1407 will ensure streamlined resolution of this litigation to the overall benefit of the parties and the judiciary.” In re BP Prods. N. Am., Inc., Antitrust Litig. (No. II), 560 F. Supp. 2d 1377, 1379 (J.P.M.L. 2008).

II. RESPONDENTS AGREE THAT THE NORTHERN DISTRICT OF CALIFORNIA IS THE MOST APPROPRIATE TRANSFEREE DISTRICT

Respondents agree that centralization in the Northern District of California before Judge Hamilton would serve the convenience of parties and witnesses, and would promote the just and efficient conduct of the actions. The Online DVD Rental Antitrust Litigation is “already proceeding apace before an able judge experienced in the management of complex and multidistrict litigation; and the district is well equipped with the resources that this complex antitrust docket is likely to require.” In re Int’l Air Transp. Surcharge Antitrust Litig., 460 F. Supp. 2d 1377, 1379 (J.P.M.L. 2006).

A. The Northern District Of California Is The Most Appropriate Transferee District

The Northern District of California satisfies all relevant factors considered by this Panel. First, two of the three Defendants, Netflix and Walmart.com, are headquartered in the San Francisco Bay Area. Witnesses and documents, therefore, are overwhelmingly located in that district.⁴ Although one of the two Walmart entities is not headquartered in the Bay Area, that is outweighed by the fact that Walmart.com, the entity that had immediate responsibility for the online DVD rental business, is headquartered in the Bay Area. More importantly, Netflix, which also is located in the Bay Area, at Los Gatos, California, is central to this case. The class consists of Netflix subscribers. While Walmart.com exited the market in 2005, Netflix has remained in the online market, and, indeed, Netflix has since monopolized that market. Thus, analyses of antitrust injury and damages necessarily will focus heavily on the prices charged, and competition faced, by Netflix since Walmart.com exited the market.

⁴ See, e.g., In re Chocolate Confectionary Antitrust Litig., 542 F. Supp. 2d 1376, 1377 (J.P.M.L. 2008) (selecting transferee district “[b]ecause defendant Hershey’s worldwide headquarters are located there, and several of the defendants maintain a presence in or near that district, relevant documents and witnesses are likely located in that area”); In re Set-Top Cable TV Box Antitrust Litig., MDL No. 1995, 2008 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 100789, at *2-3 (J.P.M.L. Dec. 12, 2008) (selecting transferee district since defendant is “headquartered there, and relevant documents and witnesses will likely be located in that district”); In re Potash Antitrust Litig. (No. II), MDL No. 1996, 2008 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 99088, at *2-3 (J.P.M.L. Dec. 2, 2008); (centralizing in Northern District of Illinois where “two defendants are headquartered in that district, and relevant documents and witnesses may be located there”); In re Flat Glass Antitrust Litig., 559 F. Supp. 2d 1407, 1408 (J.P.M.L. 2008) (centralizing in district where “defendant PPG is headquartered . . . and relevant documents and witnesses will likely be found”); In re Korean Air Lines Co. Antitrust Litig., 528 F. Supp. 2d 1372, 1373 (J.P.M.L. 2007) (centralizing in Central District of California where “both defendants maintain their primary domestic office in Los Angeles, where discovery may be found”); In re Digital Music Antitrust Litig., 444 F. Supp. 2d 1351, 1352 (J.P.M.L. 2006) (centralizing in district where “most defendants are headquartered”); In re Live Concert Antitrust Litig., 429 F. Supp. 2d 1363 (J.P.M.L. 2006) (centralizing in district “likely to provide a substantial number of witnesses and documents” because “business whose conduct is at issue in the actions is now headquartered there”); In re Ditropan XL Antitrust Litig., 429 F. Supp. 2d 1364, 1366 (J.P.M.L. 2006) (centralizing in Northern District of California where “many of the relevant witnesses and documents are likely located”); In re Apple iPod Nano Prods. Liab. Litig., 429 F. Supp. 2d 1366, 1368 (J.P.M.L. 2006) (“The Northern District of California is a likely source of relevant documents and witnesses inasmuch as Apple’s headquarters are located there.”).

Second, the original and first-filed case was filed in the Northern District of California.⁵ This factor has great importance here. Unlike cases following a government investigation, where the first-filed case is merely the winner of the race to the courthouse, the first-filed case was based on the Resnick plaintiffs' extensive investigation and legal analysis. The Resnick plaintiffs chose the Northern District of California after careful consideration, unconstrained by any need to win a race to the courthouse. Equity weighs heavily in favor of the Resnick plaintiffs' choice of forum.

Third, the overwhelming majority of the other actions—thirty-four of forty-nine—have been filed (and are pending) in the Northern District, with the remainder scattered among a number of other jurisdictions that have no nexus to the litigation except possibly for the parochial interests of counsel or named plaintiffs.⁶

Fourth, the cases in the Northern District of California are the most advanced. Judge Hamilton already has related thirty-two cases, transferred them to herself, and scheduled a case

⁶ See, e.g., In re Processed Egg Prods. Antitrust Litig., MDL No. 2002, 2008 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 99086, at *2-3 (J.P.M.L. Dec. 2, 2008) (“[f]ourteen actions [of 19] are now pending in this district”); In re Static Random Access Memory (SRAM) Antitrust Litig., 473 F. Supp. 2d 1384 (J.P.M.L. 2007) (selecting Northern District of California is an appropriate transferee forum since “over twenty of the actions of which the Panel has been notified have been brought in that district (and no other district has more than three actions)”); In re Carbon Black Antitrust Litig., 277 F. Supp. 2d 1380, 1381 (J.P.M.L. 2003) (centralizing in where “the majority of the actions are pending”); In re Nifedipine Antitrust Litig., 266 F. Supp. 2d 1382, 1383 (J.P.M.L. 2003) (centralizing where “five of the seven actions are currently pending”).

management conference.⁷

Finally, the San Francisco Bay Area provides an ideal forum for a case involving Internet-based businesses. It is no coincidence that Netflix and Walmart.com are located there. From the outset, that area has been the center of Internet-based commerce in this country.

B. The Panel Has Recognized The Benefits Of Selecting The Northern District Of California As A Transferee District In Numerous Antitrust Class Actions

As the Panel has observed, the Northern District of California is an “easily accessible, metropolitan district,” In re Compression Labs, Inc., Patent Litig., 360 F. Supp. 2d 1367, 1368-1369 (J.P.M.L. 2005), which “is well equipped with the resources that [a] complex antitrust docket is likely to require.” In re Int’l Air Transp. Surcharge Antitrust Litig., 460 F. Supp. 2d 1377, 1379 (J.P.M.L. 2006). The Panel thus can be confident that the Northern District is capable of handling the Online DVD Rental Antitrust Litigation, like so many prior antitrust class actions that have come before it. See, e.g., In re TFT-LCD Antitrust Litig., 483 F. Supp. 2d 1353, 1354 (J.P.M.L. 2007); In re Graphics Processing Units Antitrust Litig., 483 F. Supp. 2d 1356, 1357 (J.P.M.L. 2007).

C. Judge Hamilton Has Shown The Capability To Justly And Efficiently Preside Over Antitrust Class Actions

Judge Hamilton is an experienced jurist, to whom the Panel has entrusted multidistrict litigation, including a very significant series of antitrust class actions. See In Re Dynamic Random Access Memory (DRAM) Antitrust Litig., 228 F. Supp. 2d 1379, 1381 (J.P.M.L. 2002).

DRAM has largely concluded, with Judge Hamilton having already approved a final settlement of the claims of the direct purchaser class, in a case involving 18 defendants, more than half of which are headquartered in Asia and Europe. The remaining aspects of the litigation involving indirect purchaser, individual, and State claims are well on their way to final disposition. By her efficient handling of DRAM, which has been resolved extremely quickly for a major antitrust class action, Judge Hamilton has demonstrated that she “has the experience to steer this docket on a prudent course.” In re Transpacific Passenger Air Transp. Antitrust Litig., 536 F. Supp. 2d 1366, 1367 (J.P.M.L. 2008); accord In re Set-Top Cable TV Box Antitrust Litig., MDL No. 1995, 2008 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 100789, at *3 (J.P.M.L. Dec. 12, 2008) (centralizing cases with a Judge having the “experience to steer this litigation on an expeditious course”); In re Puerto Rican Cabotage Antitrust Litig., MDL No. 1916, 2008 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 92263, at *3 (J.P.M.L. Aug. 13, 2008) (“Eleven actions are already pending there, ten of which are before Judge Daniel R. Dominguez, who has MDL experience.”).⁸

D. No Other District Has Remotely Comparable Connections To This Litigation

Although a handful of related actions and potential tag-alongs have been filed in other jurisdictions, all of those actions are based on the Resnick complaint and none were filed in a jurisdiction that is so “intimately connected,” Mun. Derivatives Antitrust Litig., 560 F. Supp. 2d at 1387, to this litigation. For example, one law firm filed cases in the Eastern and Middle Districts of Louisiana and the only argument it can muster in support of those forums is that they are automated and capable of handling a complex case. See Response of Katie Hotard, Dkt. No.

⁸ While Judge Hamilton is certainly able to handle this litigation, and the remaining DRAM litigation has shrunk to the point where a second MDL likely would not unduly burden her, the relevant factors all point to the Northern District of California even if Judge Hamilton is not available for this case. There are many distinguished jurists on that court with considerable experience in complex litigation and MDLs in particular.

4, at 2 (Feb. 9, 2009). The Northern District of California has a median time to resolution of civil cases comparable to, if not faster than, most of the outlier districts and none achieves substantially better results. See ADMINISTRATIVE OFFICE OF THE U.S. COURTS, FEDERAL JUDICIAL CASELOAD STATISTICS, TABLE C-5.

Indeed, the other forums appear (and, in some cases, are explicitly known) to have been chosen to suit counsel's strategic objective of gaining an entrée into the management of this case, rather than any principled connection to the case. Such "parochial" interests are not a factor in deciding the appropriate transferee district. The center of gravity of these actions is the Bay Area; no jurisdiction has the unique nexus with the allegations or is any better equipped to handle these actions than is the Northern District of California.

Moreover, three tag-along cases have been filed in state courts—all in California. Having the federal case centralized in the Northern District of California would facilitate coordination between the federal and California state court cases. See In re General Motors Corp. Securities & Derivative Litig., 429 F. Supp. 2d 1368 (J.P.M.L. 2006) (explaining that centralizing in "situs of related state court proceedings . . . carries the added benefit of fostering coordinated discovery between the federal and state proceedings, should such a need arise"); see also In re Lorazepam & Clorazepate Antitrust Litig., MDL No. 1290, 1999 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 12574, at *4 (J.P.M.L. Aug. 11, 1999) (centralizing in district where "plaintiffs in many of the related state court actions have agreed to coordinate discovery").

CONCLUSION

For the foregoing reasons, the Online DVD Rental Antitrust Litigation should be centralized pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1407 in the Northern District of California before the Honorable Phyllis J. Hamilton.
